The Tuttles Madcap Misadventures is a hilarious arcade adventure game about a thoroughly modern family trying to bond on a road trip to the Alamo. Beautifully detailed art and wonderfully silly situations bring this familiar story into the Interactive age. In addition to 40 engaging levels of side-scrolling action, players are treated to animated, comic-book style cut scenes brought to life by the fantastic voice-over talents of some of Hollywood's biggest names: Bob Saget, Jamie Lee Curtis, Ashley Tisdale, Dominic Scott Kay, Dave Coulier, and William Shatner.

The Tuttles is a casual videogame that pairs having a good time with doing good. A first-of-its-kind fundraising initiative, the Starlight Starbright Children's Foundation has partnered with Legacy Interactive, a leader in games for the mass market, on the game's development and publishing. Dave Thomas and his comedy team at Emmy Award winning studio, Animax Entertainment, developed the game's original script and characters.
